Lost Fine Work Horse.

L. R. Blanton, the E. Main street coal man, lost by death Wednesday a splendid work horse, which cost the firm $250 not very long ago. The animal became overheated and died in a short while.

Freak Tomato With a Heart.

Mr. Seth M. Todd, of the Rogersville section of the county, left at this office this week a ripe tomato with a perfect heart on it. In fact, the tomato had more heart than many people we meet with in the journey through life.

Kicked by a Mule.

David Munday, of the Kingston section, had the misfortune to feel the weight of a mule's heel the other day. While working with the hybrid he got too close to his business and his muleship landed good and strong in Mr. Munday's mouth, knocking out several teeth and fearfully cutting his lips.

We buy all kinds of country produce, pay the highest market price. Give us a call. Covington Thorpe Co. 57-4f.

Death of Little Child

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Mays were called upon to give up their little baby of only a few days the other day. The little one was buried in Richmond Cemetery.

John Bates, Colored, Dead

John Bates, a well-known darkey, died at his home on Seventh street Wednesday and his body was interred at Brassfield. John was an industrious, clever darkey and he had many white friends who regret his death.

Need More Like Them.

Two juries from Madison county have sent Breathitt county feudists to the penitentiary for life, the trials taking place at Winchester. If more such juries could be found in Kentucky, killings would become less frequent.—Danville Messenger.

Bully For McDermott!

It cost the State of Kentucky $12.70 to settle the street car strike at Lexington. If acting Gov. E. J. McDermott had not been a man of judgment, sense and discretion, he would have called out the militia and the cost to the State would have run into the thousands of dollars. Bully for McDermott!—The Shelbyville Record.

Model School.

The Model School and Eastern Prep Academy of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, opens September 8th. Books are opened at the President's office for enrollment. Only a limited number of pupils can be accommodated. First come, first served. Write or telephone at once. J. G. CRABBE, President.

Opera House Wednesday, August Sixth.

The stupendous spectacle of terrifying vividness, faithfully portrayed with all historical accuracy, "Quo Vadis," "Whither goest thou," a perfect presentation of the sensational, dramatic, historical, biblical and spectacular values of this master piece in three great reels, from the crucifixion of Christ to the death of Nero. There will be no advance in price of admission, the regular price of ten cents will be charged.

Big Show Coming to Richmond.

One of America's oldest, richest tented shows, a modernized, great combination of the very greatest trained wild animals, the most superb horses and ponies, the greatest American and European artists, the latest "thrillers" that mankind can devise, and in fact the newest novelties of the present day, all in one union, will be found with Sun Brothers' World's Progressive Shows, now on their 23d annual tour, and will give two complete exhibitions at Richmond, August 27th. This stupendous aggregation is under the personal direction of the Sun Brothers, and the assurance is given that the program for the present season is newer and richer than ever.

To add to the variety, a complete Japanese Circus Company will exhibit the very cleverest Oriental acts ever imported to this country and now seen in America for the first time.

Over 100 great artists appear with this big show. Dean and his matchless band appear at every performance and they are a delight to all who hear their great concerts. The menagerie and the wild beast exhibition is complete and an educational diversity.

This great exhibition will appear in its completeness, rain or shine, at Richmond, August 27th.

Public Speaking.

The Hon. A. L. Furgerson, of Georgetown, Scott county, vice-president and a member of the executive board of the Burley Tobacco Society and Company, will deliver an address to the members of the 1906-'07-'08 Pool on August 4th, Monday, county court day, at 1:30 p. m., at the court house in Richmond.

Mr. Furgerson will explain in detail the present financial condition of the society and company. This will be of vital interest to every tobacco grower, and especially to the poolers of 1909, who own the 10 per cent. stock in the Burley Tobacco Co. On this date your certificate of stock will be issued, provided you are at this meeting, and have with you your warehouse receipt; so do not fail to be at the meeting, bringing your receipt with you. There will also be a meeting of the Madison County Board of Control on the same date at 10 a. m., at the court house, in the grand jury room.

Please tell all the members of the pool and urge them to be present. The public is also cordially invited to be present to hear Mr. Furgerson. He is a brainy and logical speaker and a practical farmer. Every tobacco grower in the county should be interested in this meeting, as the future success of the Burley Tobacco Society and Company will to a great extent determine the price of your tobacco in the future.

Respectfully,

Jesse Conn,

Member Dist. R'd for Madison Co.

I extend an invitation to every person who takes part in the Democratic primary to be held Saturday, August 2, to vote for me for the nomination for Sheriff. If I have not asked your support, consider this an invitation to vote for me. Elmer Deatherage. 84-61

The Turkey Trot, etc.

The writer used to be somewhat of a terpsichorist, or words to that effect, before his thigh was broken, and he still takes great interest in the amusement for its own sake and that of his children, who have inherited a father's fondness for trying to put body and feet to the time of pleasing music. We, therefore, take little stock in the tirades against the turkey trot, the tango and other new dances, satisfied that those who have against them have very little knowledge of whereof they affirm. They can be danced indecently, and they sometimes are, cannot be gainsaid. But decent people do not dance that way, and properly performed they are as pleasing and as proper as any other of the dances.

Recognizing the popularity of the two dances, Baden Baden has decided to hold an international tournament during the last ten days in August, with prizes aggregating $2,500, part of which will, with a trophy, be awarded to the best dancer, which will carry with it the world's championship. It is a long distance to Germany and it costs considerable to get there, so the number of American couples will doubtless be limited, but those who can go will likely show the Germans and others a thing or two in dancing the turkey trot and the tango. We have couples right here in Lexington who could win the championship if they were disposed to spend so much money in getting that which would not be worth much after it was obtained.

There have been those ever since we could recollect who seemed to regard dancing as the unpardonable sin. But while doubtless honest in their views, they belong to the old fogy class, who apparently do not believe the Bible when it says "there is a time to dance." These people miss a great deal of the pleasures of life and keep others from enjoying them.—W. P. Walton in Lexington Herald.

What TAXES on FARM?

are the TAXES on Your FARM? Would they be a nickel more each year if you increased your output one-third?

IF WE SHOW YOU that on a moderate investment it will earn you each year at the least 50 per cent outside of the saving of labor, and without figuring the added size of your manure pile, would you entertain a proposition whereby we furnish the article and it shall earn every cent of its cost to you before you pay for it? $100.00 per Acre Farms Should Produce the Proper Returns.

A Bit Personal.

After participating in the primary tomorrow, it is my purpose to leave for a business trip of a few days in Florida. In my absence, my brother, Col. W. P. Walton, of Lexington, will more than hold up my end in the Climax office, while my partner, Mr. B. D. Gordon, will be found ready and willing to serve the patrons in any way they may wish. I trust that my brother's stay in this delightful little city may be as pleasant as mine has been, and that the good people of Madison county and Richmond will be as courteous and kind to him as they have been to me. I am sure that the thousands who twice each week read the Climax will be glad of the change and that the paper will be so much improved under his editorial management that they will learn of my return with regret. Wishing the Climax's clientele all the good things that can come to them, I am,

Sincerely, E. C. WALTON.

Writers Fare Well in Government Jobs.

THE President of the United States is a writer and an author. Mr. Bryan, the Secretary of State, is a writer of no mean ability; Josephus Daniels, the Secretary of the Navy, is a life-long, practical newspaper man. Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, was a reporter and editor, and Wm. C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, for five years helped to make the press. Perhaps these are some of the reasons why writers and newspaper men are faring so well at the hands of the administration. For when the President is dispensing jobs, quite frequently a newspaper man or an author is at the other side of the counter.

But because the President and his cabinet are literary and journalistic in their associations does not tell the whole story. Congress is afflicted the same way. There are now about 60 men in Congress who have had practical experience at newspaper work. These range all of the way down the line from the Speaker, Champ Clark, who edited a country paper and was a reporter, to Alfalfa Bill Murray, of Oklahoma, who did the same thing.

Furthermore, many of the men in Congress and in other public offices in Washington, are not time-servers, but are statesmen who are doing things. Victor Murdock, the floor leader, and the chief asset of the so-called progressive party, is one of the best newspaper men of the country. Carter Glass, of Virginia, who is in the public eye as the framer of the currency bill, is the editor and owner of a good newspaper. He has been a newspaper man, and a good one, all his life, as his father before him was. Senator Bristow, who is a big man in Congress, owns a daily newspaper, as does Luke Lea, of Tennessee.

Claude L'Engle, who is serving his first term in Congress from Florida, is the editor of Dixie, a weekly political magazine published at Jacksonville, and it may be remarked parenthetically that the circulation and influence of Dixie in Florida is something considerable. Mr. L'Engle was no novice in public life when he was sent to Congress, neither is he a novice in the newspaper field.

The President is looking for efficient men to fill places, and while the editors do not claim a monopoly in efficiency, they are usually alive, awake and in close touch with current events.

BEFORE another issue of the Climax is printed, the primary will be over and the people of Madison county will know reasonably well who will serve them for the next four years, beginning January 1st. It is almost as certain as anything can be that the Democratic ticket nominated tomorrow will be elected, for although Madison county is at times pivotal politically, certainly with the Republican party split asunder, the Republicans have no hope of winning again soon. Hence tomorrow's election is more important than the regular election to be held in November next, and this being the case it behooves the Democrats to vote for the very best men. All of the candidates are of a high-class of citizenship, but as in all bunches some are even better than others. All of the voters have personal preferences, but this should not alone guide them in their work of naming a ticket. Fitness for office should cut a figure. It should cut a big figure. The men chosen to manage the affairs of the county for the next four years should not only be good Democrats, those who were Democrats when the crucial test was applied several years back, but capable business men—men who have proven that they can take care of themselves and what has come into their hands, whether made or inherited. To us it seems sheer folly to entrust public affairs to signal failures. 'Twere better to leave the offices unfilled than place men in them who would wantonly or through negligence damage the county's affairs, financially or otherwise. Throw personal preferences aside and vote for the best men. Vote for men to whom you will be able to refer with pride as your county officers. Do this and you will have done a duty to yourself and the great county in which you live. We have no feeling in the premises and these lines are not written in the interest of any man or faction—such a thing is remote from our thoughts, but we do want to see Madison county well manned with officers and the only way to get them is to nominate them at tomorrow's primary. Again we impress on you the importance of choosing wisely those for whom you vote, for at the polls—that will be opened in a few short hours will be named the men who will serve you for the next four years. Remember that an ounce of precaution is worth many pounds of cure.

WALTER L. NICHOLS, one of the best printers in the State, died suddenly in his printing office at Lexington Tuesday. We knew him when he worked at Lancaster and Danville and had frequently seen him at Lexington, and it was only last Sunday that we had a very pleasant talk with the affable gentleman in his home city. He was in line health and spirits then and gave promise of long life. He told us that he was in Richmond last week and apologized for not calling on us. But this is neither here nor there. By his sudden taking away we are reminded that in the midst of life we are in death. Sunday Mr. Nichols was in fine health, full of hope and promise; Tuesday his soul returned to the God Who gave it. What a warning and how necessary it is to be prepared for the summons, which we know not the day nor the hour will come. We sorrow at Mr. Nichols' death, for in him we had a friend, and his profession a progressive, capable leader.

The Ladies Home Journal objects to the easy familiarity of the sea shore bathing places. Take that away and the beaches would lose half their charm, for there one may eat naturally, and devoid of surplus garments, feel the joyous freedom of the earth, the sky and sea, and, in fact, nature in its entirety. For heaven's sake, don't remove from the sea shore the best part of the stay there!

Wrote the primary and the Berea fair over, what have we got to look forward to? Life will hardly be worth the living from now hence.

These county primaries don't come but once in four years. And for that let us all unite in giving thanks.

It's all over but the voting and the shouting and we will all thank the Lord when that too will be a memory.

The primary will be over tomorrow, but it seems that the hot weather, like the poor, will be with us always.

Great Masonic Picnic and Celebration.

Preparations for the big Masonic picnic are progressing finely. A brass band of eighteen pieces has been engaged, and is now practicing on the latest, as well as some of the most familiar tunes for the big picnic that will be held in the Normal School Campus, August 20th. This picnic is not to be strictly Masonic. The Masons want all of their friends to attend. If you will feel more like you are one of the picnic party by bringing a basket and turning it over to the basket committee on the campus, it will be appreciated, as it is going to take considerable provisions for the immense crowd that is expected there that day. Word has already been received from many prominent Masons out in the State that they will be present. The big parade will be worth a trip to town to see. The parade will be from the Masonic Temple to the Normal School Campus, headed by the band. On arrival at the campus, the band will give a concert. Then a brief history of Masonic Lodge, which is being prepared by Mr. Robert R. Burnam, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, will be read. This historical brief will be very interesting and instructive. You don't want to miss it. Arrangements have already been made for a crowd of twenty-five hundred people, so don't fail to come because you think there won't be room for you. All the baskets containing lunches are going to be turned over to the arrangement committee and at lunch time the daughters of all the Masons in Richmond and Madison county are expected to help serve. The committee of arrangements has several pleasant surprises in store for those who attend and will mention a few more of them in our next issue. Watch the Climax and make your arrangements to come to the big picnic. Attend whether you are a Mason or not, as you are most cordially invited.

State Inspector and Examiner Sherman Goodpastor turned into the State treasury $501.51, collected as a result of his inspection of the county offices of Lee, Rockcastle and Owsley counties.

Killed His Father.

Vernon Embry, aged about 15 years, shot and killed his father, Rev. Charley Embry, at their home near Waco, yesterday morning. Only one shot was fired and a single-barreled shot gun was used. The shot entered the left side of Embry's head, just above the ear, and his brains were scattered over the floor.

The boy claims that the killing was accidental but it is generally believed that he killed his father in defense of his mother. The latter admits that her husband had struck her and she had warned him not to repeat the blow. She had a knife in her hand with which she had been turning some meat she was cooking and threatened to use this if he did so. Sheriff D. A. McCord and Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush and Overton Harber went to the scene and arrested the boy and placed him in jail. His trial will take place first of the week. He is a paralytic and one of the officers told us that he could hardly see how he could raise the gun to shoot as he did. He is not bright, but bears the reputation of being quiet and harmless. Embry, while a preacher, did not stand as high as many of his color. He and his wife had not been getting along well and it is claimed that the fault was with him. He was well known in Richmond, where he had preached on a number of occasions.

Mrs. Jason Walker on City As Music Center.

Twenty-nine women and one man heard the brilliant Mrs. Jason Walker, of Chicago and Memphis, chairman of the American Music Committee, National Federation of Musical Clubs, in the ball room of the Phoenix Hotel on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Walker told of the work of the National Federation, which was outlined in the Herald Wednesday, and urged the music lovers of Lexington to lay aside personal differences, if any exist, and work together for a musical community in Lexington. Her operation was the keynote of her address.

Mrs. Walker advanced an entirely new reason for a city taking interest in music. That reason was that it gave a city the best kind of an advertisement to be known as a music center. That, she said, was the reason Los Angeles, business men agreed to give $10,000 for the best American grand opera written the next two years, which will be produced at the Panama Exposition.

Mrs. Walker is a very charming lecturer and she heard with very great pleasure. She leaves today for Chicago.—Lexington Herald.

100 in the Shade Days

ARE HERE

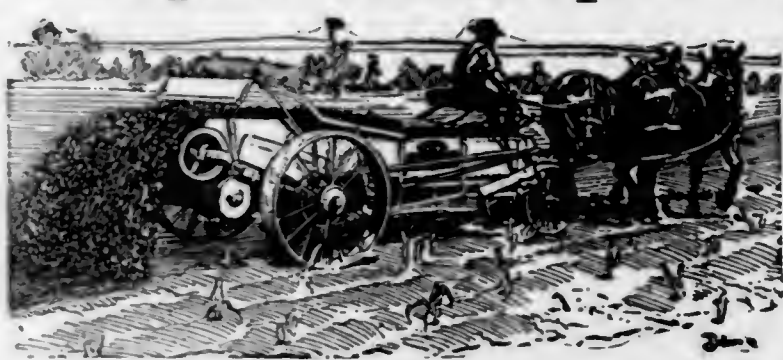

Are you ready to enjoy them, or will you sweat and suffer? When you get home from a hard day's grind at the store, office or factory, you don't feel like working a palm leaf fan to keep cool, neither do you want to sweat. Then how many nights have you gone to bed but NOT to sleep, so hot you couldn't sleep. An electric fan at about one cent per hour going at slow speed will keep you cool before going to sleep and then make sleep possible. If comfort and sound sleep are worth anything to you, they surely are worth the price of the small amount of electric current that an electric fan will use. Of course an electric fan won't work in a house that isn't wired, so call on us or anybody who does wiring and get ready to REALLY ENJOY the hot days and nights that are here. Investigate our prices on fans. The manufacturers' stock is getting low, so get busy

Steel Frame Low Spread Manure Spreader

Have you ever seen any spreader with more or as many good features? Waist high box—easy to load; makes the spreading until the last forkful is spread; made in seven sizes; wide and narrow boxes; special attachments for drilling and spreading lime.

Ask us also about our new wide spread attachment which scatters manure over an area eight feet wide—a very handy and convenient device for top dressing growing corn.

The next time you are in town stop and get a catalogue.
Ask us to show you this machine—to show you how it will save work and increase profits. Give us a chance to prove that the Low Spread tops them all.

Don't Know They Have Appendicitis.

Many Richmond people have chronic appendicitis (which is not very painful) and think it is just bowel or stomach trouble. Some have doctor for years for gas on the stomach or constipation

try simple buckhorn bark, glycerine,

German appendicitis remedy, they will be surprised at the QUICK benefit. A should watch out for him. He is show,
